Word to Republicans.

The hope of the party lies in the expansion of a stalwart Republican press. The Republican scho reads or otherwise helps to support a Democratic paper to the exclusion of one of his own party newspapers is untrue to the Republican cause.

Unanimously subscribed to by the National Republican League. J. S. CLARKSON, President.

Hon. Thomas H. Paynter, Democratic candidate, is respectfully invited to be present and a proper division of time will be accorded.

In 1890 the volume of wages paid to the employes engaged in the meat industries in Chicago amounted to the sum of $13,585,000.

In 1890, during the month of September, the exports of sewing machines from the United States to Cuba and Porto Rico amounted in value to $11,571.

THE registration officers are required to ask each person registering what party he desires to affiliate with. If the questioned very properly tells the ques- Jos PRINTING neatly and quickly executed

tioner to go to hades, that settles it, and the applicant is registered without any further formality. It's an insolent question, to say the least of it, and it ought to be eliminated from the law, since the law itself provides that it need not be answered unless the applicant chooses

If a foreign peddler enters the corporate limits of Maysville with his pack of goods he is met by the City Marshal who demands a license fee from him, explaining at the same time that our merchants pay rent, county and municipal taxes, and that they must be protected, and the Free-trader shouts, Amen. Yet when these same foreign peddlers seek to enter our National ports with great cargoes of manufactured goods, the same Free-trader would have them admitted free. To ordinary individuals it would seem that if it is right in the first case it is doubly so in the latter, or consistency has ceased to be that much vaunted jewel.

An illustration of the difference beween a Free-trade editor when talking Free-trade and a Free-trade editor talking sense is given by the following extract from a Labor Day editorial in The Philadelphia Times, of which Colonel A. K. McClure is the editor:

The cold facts are that the working classes in this country are so much bet-ter off than elsewhere that the working people of the old countries crowd every immigrant ship to share in their prosperity. The working people enjoy more privileges and enjoy more prosperity in this country than in any other, and enjoy them in greater measure now than at any former period.

We wonder if Colonel McClure would have talked in this vein had he been given the chance to engage in joint debate with Governor McKINLEY. In this connection THE LEDGER begs to remind The Bulletin that a great many editors write one way and vote another.

MR. CLEVELAND'S record as a vetoer of pension bills is no worse than the record of his party. During the first session of the Fifty-first (Republican) Democrats Congress 880 special and Pensions. pension bills were passed; during its second session 501-a total of 1,381. During the first ses sion of the Fifty-second (Democratic) Congress 869 private pension bills were reported favorably by the Pension Bureau to the House Committee on Invalid Pensions, but only 135 were passed. That is to say, only about 13 per cent. of the deserving cases were favorably acted on by the Democratic House. It is needless to say that all bills of this kind that did pass the House were acted upon favorably by the Republican Senate, and were promptly signed by President Harrison. In the three years and a half of his administration President HARRISON has signed 1,576 special pension bills and vetoed none. In the four years of CLEVELAND'S administration he signed 1,246 bills of this kind and vetoed

It was in January, 1887, that Congress first passed what is known as the "Dependent Pension bill," granting pensions to every Union soldier who had served three months, and who had since, through no fault of his own, become dependent for his living on others. This bill President CLEVELAND promptly vetoed. Just twelve days before, the same Congress passed a bill granting a pension to every man who had served in the Mexican war, whether he had since become dependent or not. This bill President CLEVELAND promptly signed. The beneficiaries of the former bill lived mostly in the Northern states; the beneficiaries of the latter lived largely in the Southern states. It was a bill that would have pensioned JEFFERSON DAVIS if he had been alive. Mr. CLEVE-LAND'S signature of it proved that he was not opposed to pensions on principle, but only to pensions for Union veterans.

This is still the attitude of Mr. CLEVE-LAND'S party. The Charleston News and Courier, the representative CLEVE-LAND organ in South Carolina, recently printed the following in a leading edi-

We look upon the Grand Army of the Republic as fair game upon all occasions. It is an enemy of the Republic, for, what-ever may have been its original purpose, it is now a huge machine for bullying the country into contributions to its members. It is a menace to the North as well as to the South. * * People of the North are gradually awaking to the fact of the injustice and iniquity of the enormous pensions, which buy the soldier vote and enrich the pension agents, and we have no fear of increasing their animosity by any thrust we may make at this grand army of beggars.

The old soldiers are willing and anxlous to let the war issues rest. To them, all feeling of hostility ceased with the surrender at Appomattox. But the Democratic party, by its bitter and rancorous hostility toward them is making it impossible for any self-respecting veteran to vote the Democratic ticket.

CEREALS.

Census Figures That Will Interest the Farmers.

An Increase of About 823,000 Acres for the Decade in Area

Devoted to Cereals-A Decrease of 321,924 Acres in Wheat-The Statistics From Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6. - The census but reau has issued a bulletin on cereal production in 1889 in Michigan, Ohio, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Da-It shows that in Michigan the total area devoted to ce reals was 8,891,686 acres, of which 90,-305 were devoted to barley, 70,046 to buckwheat, 994,597 to corn, 1,085,759 to cats, 140,740 to rye and 1,501,225 to wheat. The product was 2,522,876 bushels of barley, 811,977 bushels of buckwheat, 28,785,579 bushels of corn, 38,981,918 bushels of oats, 2,101,713 bushels of rye and 24,771,171 bushels of wheat

There was an increase of about 823, 000 acres in the decade in the area devoted to cereals, except which there was a decrease of 391,924 acres in wheat.

In Ohio the total area devoted to cereals was 6,785,280 scres, producing 1,509,-914 bushels of barley, 168,838 bushels of bulk wheat, 11,392,812 bushels of corn. 40,186,732 bushels of oats, 1,007,156 bushels of rye and 85,559,208 bushels of wheat. Since 1879 there has been an increase of $35,000 acres in the area devoted to oats and rye, and a decrease of 807,000 scres in the area devoted to barley, buckwheat, corn and wheat. In 1889 Kentucky had 4,556,998 acres devoted to cereals as compared with 4,965,230 in 1879; product for the year 1889 is given as 165,959 bushels of barley, 8,804 bushels of bulk wheat, 2,060,-882 bushels of corn. 8,775,814 bushels of oats, 423,847 bushels of rye and 1,707,745 bushels of wheat There was an increase of 241,000 acres in the area in oats and a decrease of $81,000 in the other cereals.

In Wisconsin the total area devoted to the cultivation of cereals in 1889 was 4,319,002 acres, as compared with 4,327,-294 acres in 1879. There was an increase of 270,579 acres in 1879. There was an increase of 270,579 acres in the area of barley, of 48,481 acres in bulk wheat, of 19,948 acres in corn, of 671,554 acres in oats, and of 105,354 acres in rye. This total increase of 1,195,738 acres was, however, more than offset by a decrease of the 1,204,000 acres or 61.81 per cent in the area in wheat. The product in 1889 was 15,559,872 bushels of wheat, 1,064,178 bushels of bulk wheat, 84,204,016 bushels of corn, 60,739,052 bushels of oats, 4,250,582 bushels of rye and 11,698,992 bushels of wheat

In Minnesota the total area in cereals in 1889 was 6,297,044 acres as compared with 4,234,187 acres in 1879. There was increase of 242,490 acres in the area in barley, of 15,413 acres in bulk wheat, of 462,953 acres in corn. In twenty counties, principally in the southeast part of the state, there was a total decrease of 1,365,890 acres in the area in wheat. The product in 1889 is given as follows in heat to be be supplyed by the state. Terms reasonable. Barley, 9,100,653; buckwheat, 251,705; corn, 24,696,446; cats, 40,955,791; rye,

1,252,663; wheat, 52,300,247. In North Dakota the total area in cereals in 1689 was 8,233,993 acres as compared with 100,505 acres in the corresponding portion of Dakota territory in 1879. There was an increase of 107, 001 acres in the area in barley, of 114 acres in bulk wheat, of 11,051 acres in corn, of 384,409 acres in oats, of 1,568 acres in rye and of 2,638,345 acres in wheat. The product in 1889 in bushels is given as follows: Barley, 1,569,167; buckwheat, 939; corn, 188,929; oats, 5, 796,294; rye, 2,708,199; wheat, 26,886,455. In South Dakota the total increase in 1889 was 8,101,604 acres, compared with 346,733 acres in the corresponding portion of Dakota Territory in 1879. There was an increase of 63,779 acres in barley, of 1,273 scres in buckwheat, of 668, 896 acres in corn, of 530,414 acres in oats, of 6,844 acres in rye and of 2,079,-403 acres in wheat. As in the case of North Dakota the production of cereals in 1889 was considerably reduced by drought. The product in bushels in 1889 is stated to be as follows: Barley, 902,005; buckwheat, 11,423; corn, 13,-152,008; oats, 7,469,849, rye, 85,183; wheat, 16,541,138.
